Annual Meeting Fish & Game Assn. February 25

The Coleman Fish and Game Association will be holding a General Meeting and Smoker at the Elk's Hall on the evening of Saturday, February 25. This will be the first large scale get-together held by the local sportsmen in many years. This will be for members only.

Recent reports indicate that the Provincial Game Branch as a result of exhaustive tests and experiments have concluded that the planting of fish in streams have little or no effect on improving the fishing situation. A different approach is being made and the new policy is the stocking of lakes and ponds. Adequate ponds meeting favorable specifications are not too numerous. The only alternative is to improve the existing ones and to create new ones. A start in this direction has been made by the local association and indications are that a vigorous and permanent program along that line must be pursued to give the license holders the quality of fishing they are entitled to.

The Game Branch state they will supply fish whenever and wherever conditions meet their specifications. It is to meet these that the local association is putting its full efforts forward. This can be achieved only through the fullest support of the Association by all fishermen that this can be done. It is up to everyone to make their business to see that one of our great undeveloped natural resources can be developed and made a tourist's attraction. It is only through the efforts of the Fish and Game Association that this can be achieved. All interested are urged to take out membership in the association and try and achieve these ultimate goals.

Agenda for the annual meeting will be: Report of activities to date, Report on future planning, Election of officers.

This will be followed by superb entertainment such as the Barbershop Quartette, Mazie and Music. Lunch and refreshments will be served.

Retired Miner Passes At Hillcrest

Joseph Zboya of Hillcrest, longtime resident of the Crow's Nest Pass, died in hospital in Blairmore Saturday.

Mr. Zboya, 45 years, was born at Hosmer, B.C., and came to Hillcrest with his parents in 1914 where the family has resided since. He attended school in Hillcrest and later became employed with the West Canadian Collieries mine at Blairmore, where he worked until he retired in 1954 due to ill-health. He was a member of the Hillcrest Catholic church, Blairmore local of the UMWA and was well known in hunting and fishing circles.

He was predeceased by his father Frank, at Hillcrest in 1930, his mother, Mary, at Hillcrest in 1953, and by a brother Frank, who died in a mine accident at Blairmore in December, 1949.

He is survived by four sisters, Helen (Mrs. F. Coccolonia) of Hillcrest, Anne (Mrs. B. Razienko) and Ethel (Mrs. E. Spivek) both of Coleman, and Louise (Mrs. J. Lesko) of New Jersey.

Prayers will be said at Culham's funeral parlors at Blairmore at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Requiem high mass will be celebrated from St. Theresa's Catholic church in Hillcrest at 10 a.m. Wednesday, and interment will follow in the Hillcrest Catholic cemetery. The Rev. B. Carroll of Bellevue, will officiate.

Crows Nest Men Have Close Call

Two Crow's Nest Pass residents, Jim Martinek and George Martinek, escaped with only minor injuries when the car in which they were riding was struck by a west-bound freight train at a level crossing east of Hillcrest Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports, the vehicle skidded on the slippery road into the path of the oncoming train. The car is believed totally wrecked.

Queen Candidate Is Honored

Miss Leah Jones, Coleman high school student, was honored at a party held at the Coleman high school auditorium Friday evening when well over 90 students attended the function. Miss Jones was the candidate of the Coleman High School who competed in the Winter Carnival Queen contest held in connection with the Crow's Nest Pass Winter Carnival in Blairmore last week.

Proceeds derived by the sale of queen tickets for Miss Jones were turned over to the high school Olive Berkeoff Fund. The sum of $114.73 was added to the present sum of $203 raised by the high school which has set up a trust fund for Miss Berkeoff's education after she completes her high school studies. Miss Berkeoff, a Coleman high school student, had to have a leg amputated recently.

During the party held for Miss Jones president of the High School Student Council, Miss Joni Rinaldi called on Leah and on behalf of the high school presented her with a set of travelling luggage including a train case and wardrobe case for her efforts in selling tickets. Horace Allen, principal, congratulated Miss Jones and the high school for a job well done.

Coleman Italian Society Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Coleman Italian Society is making special plans to celebrate its 50th anniversary. According to Angelo Toppino the celebration will be held in the Italian hall on the evening of May 21, when a banquet will be held.

Two Crow's Nest Pass residents, Mr. Nastasi, one of the founders of the lodge and Joe Gramacci of Bellevue, an active member for the past 50 years, will be presented with Gold medallions in recognition of their long membership.

For the special occasion, the Grand Lodge of Fernie and all brother and sister lodges in the district embracing southeastern B.C. and southwestern Alberta will be invited to attend the occasion.

The Italian lodge was started in the town ghost town of Lillie in 1906 and after the mine workings at Lillie shut down the lodge was taken over by Coleman and has been active since.

To commemorate the lodge's anniversary year, the Italian Society is planning to enter a colorful float in every parade and holiday event scheduled to be held in the Crow's Nest Pass towns this coming season.

Red Cross Sunday February 26

Sunday, February 26, has been named "Red Cross Sunday" and Saturday, Feb. 25 has been named "Red Cross Sabbath" across both Canada and the United States.

Each year the Sunday closest to March 1, opening date of the annual campaign for funds, is selected as "Red Cross Sunday" with clergy of every denomination invited to mention the work of Red Cross either from the pulpit or in the church bulletin, thus putting the work of Red Cross under the best possible auspices.

Through the years the Biblical story of the Good Samaritan has been used as the model for Red Cross workers.

Legion Convention Set For June 10

OTTAWA — (CP) — The 16th Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion will open at Vancouver June 10, it was announced here.

Legion secretary T. D. Anderson said the most important problem before the biennial convention will be attempts to increase membership.

Total membership of the Legion has never equalled more than 25 per cent of Canada's war veterans. The Legion now claims a membership of about 200,000, or about one of every six veterans.

Nomination Results for Town and School Board

MAYOR — F. Aboussafy, elected by acclamation.

COUNCILLORS — B. Bond and A. Toppino, both elected by acclamation.

SCHOOL BOARD — N. Ash, J. Hanrahan, J. Salus and T. Kitaguchi. Two to be elected.

Date of election has been set for Monday, March 5th.

More detailed report in our next issue.

Ratepayers Are Given Town and School Reports

The annual meeting of the Coleman ratepayers was held in the town hall this week when Mayor Frank Aboussafy was appointed chairman and Trevor Collier, secretary. A fair attendance was present. In presenting his report Mayor Frank Aboussafy stated that this would be the second year that municipal operations have been carried out without a direct tax being charged on any property. Any taxes paid in the last two years have been for the upkeep of schools, hospitals, and all services, while being continually improved, have been wholly supported by other means.

Referring to the financial statement Mayor Aboussafy pointed out that the park committee had spent money in excess to the budget estimate the reason being the activity of the Lions Club in the development of the playground in the town park and the Board of Trade erecting a camp shelter for visitors in the town park. The money spent here by the town was to keep up with the progress being made by these two worthy organizations.

The public works department did not fare as well as other departments as their expenditure was curtailed last summer for two reasons, the lateness of the spring and an early fall and the breaks in the West Coleman water main which required more attention of the public works department than is usual.

Mayor Aboussafy pointed out that the light and water department earnings had fallen down slightly during 1955 but continued to be large enough for the town to do all necessary financing and to assure lower taxes for several years to come.

The town's reserves, said Mayor Aboussafy, have reached an all-time high and after paying off all debentures, government bond purchases now stand at Coleman Light and water $50,000 and town $8,000. Some criticism has been received for having accumulated such reserves and the town has received many suggestions from individuals on how to spend the money and it is expected that many more ideas will be received. But, said Mr. Aboussafy, all I can tell you at this time is that the council did not anticipate all these surpluses and it would be a terrible mistake to spend the money just for the sake of lowering the reserves. None of the services in town are being curtailed and it is expected that the public works program will increase sufficiently in the next few years to take up most of the earnings of the light and water company," he said.

A report of the public works department showed that this department did not carry out any program for the extension of its capital projects such as sidewalks, but concentrated on general maintenance of town utilities.

The fire committee reported that during 1955, the brigade was called out eleven times. Of these fires, seven were within the town boundaries, one on Coleman Collieries property and three in the improvement district. Three fires destroyed homes, one with a loss of life, all within the I.D. area.

The health and welfare department report showed that there were five recipients during the year, but this figure had dropped to one by November. The total number of relief cases was forestalled by efforts put forth in finding temporary employment for all but a few who were out of work.

Parks Report

The park committee showed that a lot of work was undertaken during the year at the new town park. Soil was hauled in and leveled and water lines were put in and electric lights installed at the camp shelter. Seed was purchased and will be planted in the spring. The Lions Club installed the playground in the park including swings and slides while the board of trade built the fine camp shelter and the Jubilee committee built a wading pool.

The municipal inspector's report was read and showed that town business was being conducted efficiently.

School Meeting

The annual ratepayers meetings of the Coleman School District followed with M. Cornett chairman.

The works and property committee report was given by trustee Clarence Clarke showing that considerable work had been done on both schools. The report showed that the cost per capita at the schools was $186.90.

Inspector of Schools J. McKay reported there was an attendance of 591 pupils and that there were a total of 21 rooms being used at the schools. C. B. Johnson, high school inspector, stressed the fact that accommodation in the school was very satisfactory and that there was no overcrowding.

Principal Horace Allan's report showed that the school had been open 106.5 days with a slightly lower attendance than last year. The report also showed that there was one teacher less this year but this condition would not exist next term. He reported that nine scholarship awards sponsored by local organizations had been presented to the students this fall. The report also showed that 35 students had written grade nine exams and that 35 had passed. In grade twelve 126 wrote matriculation subjects with 81 passing or 63.5 per cent passing; 91 per cent received diploma standings. There were 27 students graduated from grade twelve last term and of these 21 entered offices, went to university or entered some profession to advance their knowledge.

Find Frozen Body Of Miner at Bellevue

Members of the Pass detachment of the RCMP found the body of an elderly local retired miner, Tony Charyniuk, partly frozen in his cottage today. In failing health for some time, it is believed he died of natural causes and there will be no inquest.

The body was lying on the floor near the coal stove as he had apparently made a bed near the fire to keep warm in the recent sub-zero weather. Mr. Charyniuk had not been seen for several days and a neighbor became alarmed and reported this to police. This led to the finding of the body.

Mr. Charyniuk, in his 70s, was living alone. He was an old age pensioner and drawing a miner's welfare pension being a former employee of the Bellevue mine. A son lives in Calgary. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Calgary Pair Draw Terms in Prison

Two Calgary men, Gerald Norman Pavan and George Walker Pavan, were each sentenced to three years in the Prince Albert penitentiary when they appeared before Magistrate P. S. Radford of Blairmore on Wednesday. The men entered pleas of guilty on sixteen charges each of breaking and entering. The pair had been retained from February 6th.

The men were picked up by RCMP of the Blairmore detachment on a night patrol February 4 and after a short investigation by local constables it was found they were wanted on numerous charges.

Complaints of breaking and entering were filed by the following firms: the Atlas Lumber Company, Larry's Tire Shop, Western Farm Equipment, Nanton Farm Sales and Smith's Garage, all of Nanton; the A.A. Tire Service, Lacombe, Berscht Clothing Store, the Central Cleaners, Lundgren-Hoffos Motors, all of Innisfail; Crow's Nest Pass Motors at Blairmore, Pete's Garage and Service of Coleman, Tagell's Hardware, Hagel's Machine Shop, Olson's Garage and Hagel's Groceries, all of Beiseker. The three year terms are to run concurrently.

Miss Irene Kovalik becomes bride of William Caswell

The marriage of Miss Irene Kovalik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kovalik of Ghost Pine Creek, Alberta, to William Caswell of Hillcrest, took place January 21 in the Holy Ghost Church, Coleman, Alberta. Rev. Denis Fleming officiated when the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The January bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace and net over satin featuring long lily-point sleeves. The neckline was embroidered with seed pearls and her net veil fell from a cap to match. Her bouquet was a shower of red roses.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Alice Castellano, whose yellow gown of nylon net and lace over taffeta was a semi-formal length. In her hair she wore a matching nylon net bandeau, and her nosegay was of yellow carnations.

Joseph A. Kovalik, brother of the bride, was best man.

Organist during the ceremony was Miss Jo Ann Montalbetti.

At the reception in the Elks hall in Coleman, Rev. Denis Fleming proposed the bridal toast.

The young couple left for Vulcan, Alberta, where they will make their home.

A.H.A. Sponsors 3 Scholarships

Three annual scholarships totalling $225 will be awarded annually by the Alberta Hotel Association to students of the food service training department of the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary. Recognizing the need for well trained help in the food industry the association has announced that scholarships of $100, $75 and $50 will be given three students as chosen by the results of term examinations.

Under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Denny, students in the one year course are taught to operate small food establishments where nutritious food can be served. The course includes theory lectures, and practical work in the school cafeteria and snack bar as well as training in public relations and the handling of staff.

Crows Nest Pass Experienced Bad Blizzard

Last Thursday residents of the Crows Nest Pass experienced one of its worst winter days when the 100 mile an hour wind whipped the snow around like an old time blizzard, making visibility almost impossible at times, while drifting snow with a twang of ice pierced ones face. Fortunately the day passed over with no accidents or mishaps. The teachers taking precaution announced no school for grades 1, 2 and 3 in the afternoon.

Unwanted Pets

Stray dogs around town have caused a great deal of trouble to the Chief of Police, the town crew and residents here of late. These poor unfortunate animals are usually the one time pets of some unthoughtful owners who deliberately move away and leave them to roam the streets to starve in extreme cold weather. Some kind hearted children and housewives throw out scraps of food helping to keep them alive. Another favorite trick seems to come from travellers dropping unwanted dogs and cats near some friendly garage, leaving the worry and trouble to some one else to dispose of these unwanted pets.

● THE "CANADIAN" CHOICE: Exotic foods — caviar, pate de foie gras, hors d'oeuvres — are gaining in popularity with the travelling public, and succulent steaks and vintage wines are sharing favor with the traditional roast beef and lamb chops on Canadian Pacific Railway dining cars. One of the most popular delicacies aboard the "Canadian," C.P.R.'s new, crack transcontinental, is lobster, and both Chef G. DeCarle and Walter Gordon Jacobs agree that it is one of the most savory of seafoods.

Spraying with water found best protection from first fall frost

The Lethbridge Experimental Farm has applied itself for several years to the problem of getting around the first fall frost.

As every southern Alberta gardener and farmer knows states the Lethbridge Herald, there often come early frosts that cut down all the tender vegetables and flowers, and then several weeks of warm frost-free weather which would have greatly extended and multiplied the harvest if the plants hadn't been killed. By escaping the damage of that one cold night, then, the gardening season could be lengthened considerably.

The same experimental farm and one or two others have been working on a field tomato early enough for this climate. It could be grown in the irrigation belt of southern

Famed toymaker says nature is best provider

Kay Bojesen, famed Danish toymaker, said manufacturers still have been unable to come up with anything to replace what nature provides.

"Actually, the best toys are sand and water, and what a child can find in nature, like acorns and seashells," Bojesen said. "The next best things are blocks, and after them come wheels."

"The simpler are toys, the better," he said, "because it allows the child fantasy."

Bojesen, who has been making toys for more than a quarter of a century, said he is particularly fond of the fact that fathers will buy for their children the same Bojesen toys they used as youngsters.

Almost always, he said, it is the men who come back for the toys of their youth, not the women.

"When it comes to toys," he explained, "little girls become ladies after the age of six. But little boys remain little boys until they die."

Olli barley recommended interior B.C.

OTTAWA—Olli barley is at present the recommended variety for the central interior of British Columbia.

S. G. Bonin of the Prince George Experimental Farm says that tests over the past 13 years indicate that Olli is the only variety with the necessary characteristics for production in this region. It is early enough in maturity so that harvesting can be completed before fall rains begin, which is usually about the second week of September, and yields from Olli are satisfactory.

Barley is one of the principal grain crops grown in central British Columbia. Because of the short growing season and early fall rains, selecting a suitable variety is a problem. It is often used as a companion crop when seeding down forages in this area and once again earliness is of prime importance.

Olli produces very good quality grain and has straw of medium height. It is less susceptible to lodging than most other varieties on trial. Unfortunately it has rough awns which makes it irritating to handle during harvesting operations but this is more than compensated for by its fine field performance.

Discusses have not become a problem in the British Columbia interior as yet. The increased use of fertilizer throughout the district in the last few years has emphasized the good performance of Olli over other varieties.

Promising new early varieties from other areas such as central and northern Alberta are being tested by the Experimental Farm at Prince George. No variety has yet been found which can consistently outyield Olli.

Wife he saved was his own

A Louisville wife who installed a safety belt in his wife's car came up with this slogan after his wife escaped personal attack: "The wife you save may be your own."

He said his mate had stopped for a red light when a young man jumped from the curb, yanked the door open and tried to drag her out, saying, "Come on, baby."

But, he said, the safety belt kept her securely strapped in the car and the young man was left in a cloud of exhaust fumes when the light changed.

What to do about "slumps"

Almost every athlete who performs regularly knows what a slump is—he can't score goals, make hits, or put those placement shots where he wants them. Very often, there appears to be no particular reason. Sometimes the player shakes the slump off quickly, sometimes it is prolonged and he begins to worry, tighten up and make a lot of mistakes.

When a slump reaches this proportion, the athlete is seldom a very pleasant fellow to be with. He gets grouchy, quick tempered and his morale becomes very low. Any athlete who is in such a slump can help himself snap out of it by remembering these few simple rules:

1. Check up on your fundamentals. Often, players acquire incorrect habits as they advance. They go back and check to see if all their fundamentals are being done properly, their skill will continue to increase.

2. Make sure you are not "tightening up." This is something that usually is made worse by a slump.

Tomato fruits crack just before turning

OTTAWA.—Water, either as rain or applied as irrigation, is most consistently associated with the cracking of tomato fruits. L. S. Ounsworth of the Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture at Harrow, Ontario, states that other conditions influencing cracking include, shading, pruning, age of fruit, amount of foliage, and root development. Radial cracking, he says, is hereditary and plant breeders are attempting to produce improved varieties.

Recent irrigation studies at Harrow indicate that efficient use of water does not increase cracking. In fact, if a uniform soil moisture level is maintained through irrigation, cracking of the tomato may be reduced. Heavy irrigations on the other hand have increased fruit splitting and even a light rain has been found to influence the degree of cracking.

Tomato varieties which have the uniform ripening characteristics carry much more resistance to radial cracking than those varieties with dark green shoulders in the immature stages. By using this characteristic the plant breeder can work toward the development of varieties resistant to cracking. A variety named Harrow has quite high resistance to radial cracking. This variety developed at the Harrow Experimental Farm is an early market tomato which produces a large yield of medium sized fruit on a determinate vine. It is particularly well suited to growing on stakes.

Tomato fruits are most subject to cracking just before they begin to turn color. If weather and soil conditions are unfavorable at this stage of development, cracking may be quite serious.

More than half of Ontario, Canada's second-largest province, is forest.

slump—the player starts to shoot or swing his bat with tight, tense muscles. He is often said to be "pressing." Concentrate on keeping loose and relaxed.

3. If you are shooting a puck or a ball, watch carefully and see just how you are missing. Are you shooting off to one side or the other consistently; are you shooting too high or too low; are you telegraphing your shots? Such analysis will help you diagnose and correct your error.

It has been found that every time a player (even a top star) stages this type of check-up, his plays show definite improvement over the next few weeks. Try to remember not to get panicky when you're in a slump—play it smart and analyze!

Aim for the front

Here's a tip that will help your basketball shooting accuracy.

Always set your eyes on the front rim of the basket. This is your target. Keep your eyes on it before you shoot, as you shoot and until the ball goes in.

The reason for this is simple. Tests show that accuracy improves when you have a definite target on the basket to aim at, rather than just shooting in the general direction of the basket.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

JACOB SHOWS HOW RELIGION BETTERS US

Jacob at his worst was one of the meanest and shiftest characters on record, either in Holy Writ or in the secular records of human life. He tricked his elder brother, Esau, out of the birthright, and in other incidents he showed himself a cowardly and selfish man.

But Jacob at his best proved to be a man upon whom something could be built, whereas the more likeable, good-natured Esau like many likeable, good-natured men, was weak. He was undependable, unwilling to bear much responsibility.

And also, Jacob at his best had some remarkable spiritual experiences. Perhaps the Bible tells us so much about Jacob, at his worst and at his best and about these experiences, because even mean and shifty men can be saved from their meanness and shiftiness. They can have visions of ladders reaching to heaven, and can find God. For God is no respecter of persons, and he does help those who call upon Him in sincerity and truth, even if their character and past conduct have not been what they ought to have been.

A man who begins to be religious can get a better religious experience—a better religion.

He can grow in grace. It is the man who never makes a beginning who comes to nothing. Jacob DID come to something better. Bethel was the first step; Peniel (Genesis) saw him really a changed man. 3178

On The Side: E. V. Durling

"Houses are built to live in and not to look upon—therefore, let use be preferred to uniformity except where both may be had." So observed Francis Bacon. How right he was! His comment, of course, refers to both exterior and interior decorating and furnishing. They sacrifice comfort in their misguided efforts to show how clever they are. The result is that many houses look more like shop windows than homes.

Sharpen your wits

It was Dante who wrote the line, "All hope abandon ye who enter here." It is claimed this sentence can be written 100 different ways using the same words and retaining the same meaning. Two different ways are, "Abandon hope all ye who enter here," and "Ye who enter here abandon all hope." Perhaps you can't figure out the other 97 ways but you could have a contest with your wife to see who could write the sentence being discussed in the most different ways in 15 minutes.

Flare for drama

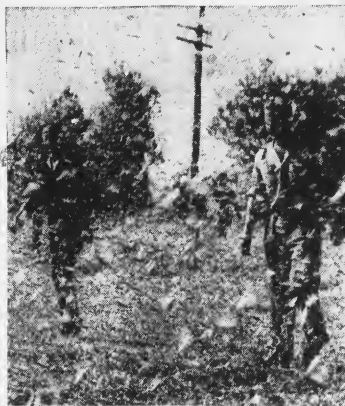

A California numerologist named Miswaid Vrandovakist thought his name was unlucky so he had it changed to Lincoln Disgrovies Vrandavngimokets. More women than men attempt suicide. So say the life insurance statisticians. However, among those who actually commit suicide men outnumber women three to one. It seems most of the women do not really wish to end their lives. They just want to draw dramatic attention to a grievance.

Long 'n' short to fit

Shakespeare said pity was the shortest way to a woman's heart, but John Billings observed, "The shortest way to a woman's heart is to praise her hat." Speaking of long shorts, Miss J. V. Couzels of Detroit invested $100 in Henry Ford's automobile company at the start and later sold her share for $353,000.

Formal finale

A suggestion has recently been made that divorcees be announced as engagements and marriages are. That is not a new idea. In the yesterday, divorce announcements were frequently made. Some were grave, some were gay, and some were like the following, which appeared in a Yankton, S.D., newspaper: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thavis take pleasure in announcing the divorce of their daughter Philomena Amelia from Mr. John Jones Robinson, Yankton, S.D., April 10, 1896.

Twins weigh in at over 19 pounds

A Bayou Lafourche fisherman can match boasts with the proudest of fathers. His new twins are believed to be the third largest born in medical history.

Earl Layus, of Leesville, says his twin girls, born recently at New Orleans, weighed a total of 17 pounds and six ounces.

Dr. C. W. Lovell, resident of the hospital, says the Layus twins are the third largest reported in the annals of medical history. The heaviest pair, born in the 19th century, weighed in at 35½ pounds. The next in size weighed 20.2 pounds.

FRESH AIR IS NECESSARY

When equipping the house with weatherstripping materials or other draft excluders, it is as well not to do a complete job of shutting out fresh air. Even a small opening at the top of the window will help to keep air circulating, drawing out stale and bringing in fresh air. This is especially necessary in the bedroom at night. A stale overheated atmosphere can have an injurious effect on the respiratory passages, so some form of humidifier should be kept in the room—an open vessel containing water will supply healthful moisture if it is placed on or near the radiator.

Dr. Derby heads dairy division

The appointment of Dr. H. A. Derby as chief of the Dairy Division Marketing Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has been approved by the Civil Service Commission. Dr. Derby will assume his new duties immediately.

Born in Pendleton, Ont., Dr. Derby has spent most of his life in the dairy industry. He joined the federal department of Agriculture in December 1932 as chief of markets and cold storage and more recently has been chief of the marketing and merchandising unit.

In 1949 Dr. Derby was Canadian delegate to the International Dairy Congress in Stockholm, Sweden, and had opportunity to study dairying methods in that country and in Denmark, Holland and the United Kingdom.

During the war, he was secretary of the Dairy Products Board. In his new position he will be directly concerned in the market support activities of the Agricultural Prices Support Board as they relate to dairy products.

Presbytery Meeting In Lethbridge

Under the able chairmanship of a layman, Mr. Fred Holberton, the South Alberta Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in Lethbridge at Southminster United Church, February 7th and 8th. Fifty-five delegates from an area stretching from Coleman east through Vauxhall and Brooks to Empress and from this line south to the international boundary met to study and plan for the church's work in this area.

Officers elected for the coming year were, chairman, Rev. George Young of Taber; Secretary, Rev. L. T. C. Harbour, Lethbridge; Treasurer, Mr. John Williams, Lethbridge; and delegates to General Council to be held in Ottawa, Ontario, in September, Mr. Fred Holberton and Rev. George Young.

Nine hundred and fifty new members were received by the United Church in Southern Alberta in 1955 and Missionary and Maintenance givings reached the $40,000 mark, an increase of $12,000.00 in the past two years.

Received as a candidate for the ministry was Ron Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Fisher of Lethbridge, and a member of Southminster United Church. Mr. Fisher brings to four the number of candidates from this congregation now studying for the ministry. Names of the other three are Mr. John Cashore, Miss Kathryn Hurlbert and Mr. Arthur Woltje.

Of special interest to laymen was the enthusiastic report given by Mr. Bill Langmead on the recent laymen's conference held at Banff, and of a similar conference planned for Waterton during June 15-16-17. Theme of the proposed Laymen's Conference at Waterton will be "Every Occupation A Christian Calling," and each United Church congregation in Southern Alberta is being asked by the Lay Council to send a minimum of four delegates.

Devotional meetings throughout the Presbytery were conducted by Rev. Hart Ilsey of Brooks and provided a continuing source of inspiration for the members in attendance. Special speaker for the Tuesday evening sessions was Rev. Donovan Jones of Picture Butte who spoke on "Evangelism In Christian Education." "Hell is not a geographic location but a spiritual condition in which a considerable proportion of the earth's population exists," declared Mr. Jones. "It is arrived at by two roads, separation from God and substitution for God." "The task of the Christian Church remains that of proclaiming the searching, redeeming love of God that longs to restore the sinner to God's fold."

Members of Presbytery were guests Wednesday evening at a dinner provided by Southminster A.O.T.S. Club and the Board of Stewards. Speaking at this meeting was Rev. C. Dwight Powell of Nanton, president of the Alberta Conference of the United Church of Canada. Like the woman with a secret that just has to be told" said the Rev. C. D. Powell, "so the Church has a secret in its knowledge of God's love, that is altogether too wonderful to be kept to itself." Mr. Powell called upon members of Presbytery to be ready for the National Evangelism Mission which the United Church of Canada proposes to launch this coming fall.

Committee chairmen elected for the coming year were:—

Evangelism and Social Service—Rev. Wm. Bell, Westminister United Church, Medicine Hat; Property and Insurance, Mr. Fred Holberton, Lethbridge; St. Stephen's College, Rev. Frank Chubb, Southminster United Church, Lethbridge; Pensions, Rev. Harry Peters, Redcliff; United Church training school, Miss Audrey Lawrence, deaconess at Memorial-Salem United Church, Medicine Hat; Records, Miss Margaret Brown, Pincher Creek; Archives, Rev. H. A. Meadows, Fifth ave. United Church, Medicine Hat; Statistics, Mr. D. Baldwin, Coal-dale; Publications information and stewardship, Rev. Frances McEldan, Ranier; Missionary education, Rev. John Moules, Milk River; Home missions, Rev. Hart Ilsey, Brooks; Pastoral relations, Rev. G. W. Spady, Memorial - Salem United Church, Medicine Hat; Missionary and maintenance, Rev. D. S. Brooker, Bow Island; Christian education, Rev. Roy Chubb, Blairmore; Colleges and students, Rev. R. M. Moriarty, Pincher Creek; Camping, Rev. Rod Mac-Auley, Coleman.

Appointed director to the Christian leadership training school at Naramata was Rev. L. T. C. Harbour, McKillop United Church at Lethbridge; while Mr. J. C. Kent of Medicine Hat, Mr. Verne Gairns of Pincher Creek, Dr. H. A. Frame of Lethbridge, and Rev. G. Young of Taber were named delegates to the Lay Council. Nominated for the position of president of the Alberta conference was Rev. Bert Moriarty of Pincher Creek. The elections will take place in May.

Canyon Church camp reported a successful year with 500 boys and girls attending nine camps. Another new cabin has been erected, a sewage system installed; propane heat put in the hospital; a dishwashing room built and a refrigerator installed in the kitchen. It was disclosed that a gift of $200 has been received from the estate of the late Senator W. A. Buchanan for improvement of the campsite at Waterton.

The firm of Holbert-Kaun were appointed auditors for the coming year.

Following Presbytery the ministers of the Presbytery met in retreat in preparation for the proposed "Mission to the Nation", a national evangelistic mission to be launched by the United Church of Canada this coming fall. Giving inspired leadership at the sessions Wednesday night and Thursday, was Dr. Ford Forsythe of the First Congregational Church in Great Falls. The retreat was brought to a fitting close with a communion service conducted by the president of the Alberta conference, the Rev. C. Dwight Powell, of Nanton.

United Church Choir Makes Presentation

On February 7th, members of the senior choir of St. Paul's United Church met in the club room to honor Mr. and Mrs. J. Park with a gift on the occasion of their recent marriage. Mrs. Jack Goulding made the presentation and wished them much happiness. Mr. Park very ably thanked them for the lovely gift and their well wishes.

Red Cross Report Feb. 17, 1956

During the past five years and up to December 31, 1955, children from the Crow's Nest Pass area have spent a total of 2239 days in the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital.

Built by the people of the province for those children whose parents cannot afford the prolonged treatment that orthopedic disability demand, the hospital provides the finest in medical, surgical and nursing care and is, of course, a free service by Red Cross to all children in the province requiring this assistance.

In-patient care includes all braces, casts and other orthopedic appliances that the case demands while regular schooling, music, handicrafts, Scouting and Guiding work together to build the whole child.

The work at the Red Cross hospital is financed by a per diem grant from the Provincial Government, gifts of every kind from the friends of Red Cross and the annual campaign for funds. Each day's care per patient costs Red Cross in the neighborhood of $6.50 which must be financed by the Society.

One of the greatest contributions to the Society, which makes the hospital possible, is that all the doctors on the staff are volunteers who donate their time and talents to both Red Cross and the children.

The sum of $134,351.00 from the current campaign for funds is budgeted to be spent in maintaining the work of the Red Cross hospital is financed by a per diem grant from the Provincial Government, gifts of every kind from the friends of Red Cross and the annual campaign for funds. CLAIMS CYPRUS HIS PERSONAL PROPERTY—French businessman Charles Roux de Lusignan, 72, says his ancestors bought the island from the Knights Templars for 100,000 gold bezants. The Knights were unable to pay a debt and de Lusignan became owner by covering it. He holds a picture of his family tree to prove the point.

PRINCE TO MARRY AMERICAN FILM STAR—Prince Rainier III of Monaco, 32, long considered Europe's most eligible royal bachelor, recently announced his engagement to U.S. actress Grace Kelly. The prince, who met the American star when she was on the French Riviera making a film, is visiting the United States.

INSPIRED by the recent upsurge in Biblical interest Olect of New York has fashioned a new jewelry creation called the Golden Dule Lanterne. The new product, a unique dangle charm, is cleverly made up from a clear plastic tube containing a golden rule, a gold heart, a rock, a grain of salt, a mustard seed and a wheat seed—all inspired by biblical quotations. The top and bottom of the tube is sealed with gold plated crowns. The charms come attached to bracelets, necklaces and earrings for the women and to the slides and key chains for the men or are available separately to attach to existing bracelets.

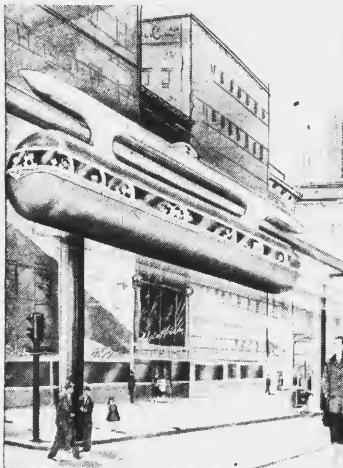

HEAD FOR THE GAME—Dayton's Bill Uhl courts fame as a genuine basketball "head" during a cage tilt in the University of Kentucky Invitational Basketball Tourney at Lexington, Ky. Fellow stooping over isn't looking for Uhl's own head: he's Art Hunt, of Utah, and is trying to knock off Uhl's block with a leg block.

SHE'S HIS BABY NOW—The lad on the left is now known as Prince Rainier III of Monaco and it's not too difficult to recognize the other cute, chubby baby of eight months as Grace Kelly who 26 years later has announced she is to vacate her Hollywood throne to wed the prince. The movie queen will become Her Serene Highness.

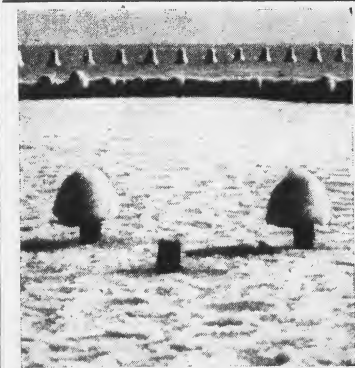

THE OLD AND NEW—The U.S.-developed M26 at right is the new look in hand grenades for the Canadian Army. Slated to disappear from the scene is the old, familiar 36 Grenade, left, an offshoot of the Great War 1914-18. The new grenade, developed during the Korean conflict, has been described as lighter, more lethal and more easily handled. Its big feature for the Canadian soldier is the elimination of the awkward, overhead cricket lob used with the 36. The soldier can throw the M26 exactly as he would a baseball thus increasing both distance and accuracy. (National Defence Photo)

SINGLE RAIL FOR LONE-STAR RIDERS—Houston, Tex., will soon have a pilot model, 970-foot monorail line in operation. Artist's sketch, above, shows how a proposed car of a completed system might look, should tests on the "sample" system prove encouraging. Coach, 54 feet long, will seat 96 passengers. Engineer will ride in plastic "bubble" which protrudes above streamlined wheel housing above the single rail of the pillar-supported track. Twin engines would give the air-conditioned cars smooth acceleration and rapid transit-plus speed. Line, first of its kind in this country, would free streets of bus traffic, give commuters a swift, traffic-free ride to their destination.

PRETTY — AND CHILLY—Patricia Anne Cowden, 21, is this year's "Maid of Cotton." That's a cotton-lace creation the Raleigh, N.C., beauty is wearing as she poses in near-freezing weather atop a New York City hotel. Pat was in New York to plan an international tour as representative of the nation's cotton industry.

FOR GLACIER-FROZEN DINOSAUR STEAK—You need a "coldhouse"—not a hothouse—to grow mushrooms like these. They're an item of winter's harvest on Chicago's lakefront. Freezing spray produces the effect as it does the cupcake-like formations on pilings in background.

PRAYER FOR A THRONE—Prince Don Juan Carlos prays at a monastery near Barcelona, Spain, after his return from exile in Portugal. He is the son of the pretender to the Spanish throne.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

So Small a Price

—By ISABEL M. REEKIE

IT HAD rained and even on Fifth Avenue the air smelled fresh and sweet. Linda and Steven, sitting close on the top of the bus, drew in great breaths.

"Let's not talk for awhile," Linda's head fitted into the curve of Steven's shoulder, her fair curls brushed his ear. Steven nodded in response as his fingers closed over her hand, his head leaned on hers.

Under Linda's head, Steven's shoulder was warm and solid. She felt happy and safe. The way she always felt with Steven. Quietly, she thought, she felt altogether different when she was with Rod. One of these days—she stirred up easily—she would have to make up her mind; she would have to choose between Steven and Rod.

"Ready now?" Steven's voice broke in.

"Ready? For what?" Her soft red lips parted.

Steven's voice was racy. "Next minute is going to be a steady pound. I've got to know one way or another, so I can settle down."

"Old Doc Sawbones wants to concentrate, is that it?" She laughed lightly and the spell broken, sat up and away a little. "Everything has to be labelled and tabulated, even your girl, Well, I don't know. It isn't that I don't love you. But a year is a long time to wait. It might be more than a year."

"If you love me—"

"Yes, I know. But there's Rod. I'm fond of him too. Perhaps it's best not to love too much," defensively. "Then if things don't turn out well, it doesn't hurt as much."

"Nonsense!" Steven frowned. "You're evading the question. Either you love me, or you don't. I don't Rod. It's his money. Oh."

A former Victoria man, Dr. Neil Perry, has been named interim governor of the state bank of Ethiopia.

Dr. Perry was director of the B.C. government bureau of economics for several years before being appointed adviser to former premier John Hart on federal-provincial tax matters. He left B.C. to become assistant deputy minister of finance with the federal government, later joining the international monetary fund in Washington, D.C.

He originally went to Addis Ababa as economic adviser to the Ethiopian minister of finance.

Quick, Easy Way to Shrink

Painful Piles

Here is a safe, clean, easy way to get rid of the nagging distress of swollen, painful piles without the inconvenience of treatments, pills or suppositories.

The secret is in taking just one small Hem-Rid tablet, with water, two or three times a day. Works through effective internal action, quick relief, ease of use, low cost. Hem-Rid is a safe, effective, low cost, money refunded if you are not 100% pleased.

Linda, you wouldn't let money—" "Why not?" Linda pushed a flying tendril behind one ear. "Other things being equal. Or, rather, other things being unequal."

"What do you mean?"

"Well," Linda looked straight ahead. "Granted that I love you, Steven—oh! at the vic-like grip of his arm around her body. 'How can I explain if you make love to me?' Slowly his arm relaxed. But Linda didn't speak for awhile. She was thinking of the way Steven's heart had been thumping when she pressed against him."

"Yes, I love you," very low. "But I don't like waiting so long. You may change your mind. I may change mine. It's now that counts, and—"

"With Rod you wouldn't have to wait," Steven removed his arm. "Rod is good-hearted," stubbornly.

"Depends on what one wants."

"He doesn't need to be mean," she retorted.

"Man?" aggressively.

"Insinuating that I'm scheming."

"If the cap fits—"

"Steven," Linda's voice was very small. "Do you really think a woman shouldn't aim at security?"

"Security?" Steven turned. He cradled Linda's hands in his. "Depends again on what one means. The way I see it, his fingers tightened on hers. "No matter what one chooses, there's always a sacrifice of a sort involved. There's always a price to pay. All at once he seemed very tired. His shoulders slumped. "I guess it's up to you, Linda. As I said at the beginning, I want to know—now. I've got to work like mad for the next month. Next year, if I'm going to win that fellowship." All his aggressiveness had vanished. He was all love now, pleading. "It would mean much to me to know that you were my girl. But you were waiting for me. I'd have something real, not just a career. I know," his eyes searched deep, "you'd have lots to put up with. But there'd be times—they'd make up for the other things."

Always a price to pay, Linda thought. Strange, that Rod had said those very words to her only last night. She had been renouncing with him at that third night club.

"What about tomorrow, Rod?" she'd asked. "You'll have a terrible head."

"Head?" Yes. One always has a head. It's the price one has to pay, my dear, for a merry life. He winked solemnly. "And cheap at the price."

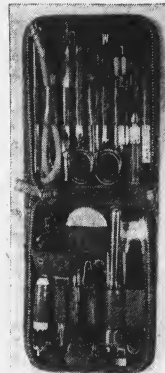

But was it? It could be that Steve was right. It all depended on what one wanted from life—on what one was willing to pay, as well. With Rod—she had never admitted it before—once might try of paying the price.

They were far out on the avenue now. Dusk had settled softly. Linda let herself relax on Steven's shoulder.

"Steven?" He turned. The warmth in his eyes, the smile trembling on his lips, made her hold her breath. His lips came down hard on her.

"Oh, Steve!" It had always been Steve. Always would be. How could she have hesitated? The price was no sacrifice.

COMPACT—All essentials contained in the doctor's "little black bag" are to be found in this bill-fold-size pocket kit. Designed by Dr. Harry E. Barnett, of Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital, it holds instruments, therapeutic equipment and basic medications. Redesignated purposes, singly or in combination, are the secret of the kit's compactness. It weighs 13 1/2 ounces.

Gradually replacing Grimm alfalfa

OTTAWA — Grimm alfalfa is gradually being replaced by newer varieties with comparable hardiness and better yielding ability. A relatively new introduction, Ladak has given good results on all Illustration Stations in Manitoba.

Vernal, a newly licensed variety has yielded about the same as Ladak at Brandon and appears hardy under Manitoba conditions, according to D. A. Duncan of the Brandon Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture.

On the Lyleton Illustration Station, Ladak averaged 178 tons of dry matter per acre for the period 1952 to 1955 inclusive. Grimm averaged 128 tons per acre for the same period. At Brandon for the period 1952 to 1954 the average yield in tons of dry matter per acre for Ladak was 3.66 and for Grimm 3.06 tons.

Farmers in southwestern Manitoba usually take two cuts if growth warrants. In some years dry weather sets in after the first cut of hay is off, and the alfalfa does not produce sufficient forage for an economical second cut.

One of the great advantages of growing alfalfa for hay is that it produces a forage that is palatable and of higher feed value than the grass hays.

Ordinary looking fossil tree species of pre-historic age

"Fossil" trees of the Cretaceous Period of millions ago have been growing on the west side of Queen's Park Crescent, Toronto, in plain view of motorists for six years, says the Globe and Mail. In spite of their ordinary appearance, their history is strange.

Recently the curator of the University of Toronto's Department of Botany, assistant professor James H. Soper, told the story of the seven-foot trees which stand on either side of the Botany building. These trees, which to a layman are just trees and to the botanist are consequently ginkgoes, or down redwood, have a story which takes one to fables of hidden Shangri La and finally to a real valley of 1,000 trees.

Fact and fiction

From the days of the First World War, it seems there were many tales about hidden valleys in sub-arctic Canada where the flora and fauna of many millions of years past still flourished. Shrouded in high hills and warmed by subterranean streams or springs of volcanic origin. Many stories were investigated and proved the figment of someone's imagination.

One such tale came along in the final days of the Second World War. It concerned the discovery of living "fossil" trees in a distant province of China. It wasn't much different from the other tales, but it was investigated. As a result, a Chinese botanist discovered three trees in 1945. Within a year it was established that the trees were a living species of a genus hitherto only known through paleobotanical records and found in rock beds in Greenland and Alaska.

Expedition after expedition followed, mainly from the National Central University, Nanking. More trees were found, finally a valley with 1,000 of them soaring up over 100 feet. In botanical circles the excitement was great, but little of it seeped out to the general public. Seeds from the plants were obtained by the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University, whence they were distributed. Those at the University of Toronto were obtained in 1945 by the present head of the Department of Botany.

James Muir warns against pace of consumer buying and tightness of markets in commodities and labour

Canada can ill afford luxury of group or sectional parochialism. Diverse climates, cultures and economic interests present opportunities as well as problems in achieving national unity.

Some of the more pressing problems confronting Canada in 1956 were reviewed by James Muir, Chairman and President of The Royal Bank of Canada, in his annual address at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders held on Jan. 12 at Head Office. One of the more important of these he felt was the new inflationary pressure which during the boom which characterized 1955. While admitting there may be some difference of opinion on the seriousness of the threat posed by the boom, he believed there "are definite danger signs, not so much in prices as in the frantic pace of consumer buying, business expansion, and the general tightness of markets in both commodities and labour."

No modern banker will deny the efficiency of wise central bank policy in curbing inflation," he said. "Indeed, experience shows that monetary policy is more effective against inflation than against deflation. But there are dangers. As the bank credit is pointed out, the policy may go too far. It may also be unselective, curbing healthy as well as unhealthy or excessive types of credit, and these by no means the least inflationary. He stressed the need for a more selective basis: consumer credit; term loans by banks; and growth capital mortgage credit."

PROBLEMS OF CREDIT "Consumer credit, or buying on time is an essential part of our modern economy. But, like all credit, it can be carried to extremes. For the individual, to live in constant heavy debt is to live in bondage; and the burden of debt, is usually the greatest for those who can afford it least: viz. those who need or are attracted by 'no down payment' offers. For the economy as a whole, consumer credit results in the production and sale of durable goods to form long-term investment by the (consumer) without at the same time a corresponding act of saving. There need be no harm in this provided the consumer loan is self-financed out of saving — the consumer then borrows in order to spread his own saving over time. But if a great rise in consumer loans is financed through bank credit expansion we have an expansion not of short-term, self-liquidating credit but a long-term loan paid back only over a long period, and a consequent expansion of the money supply."

"Term loans by banks to corporations and the purchase by banks of corporate securities might seem to be similar in effect to an expansion of bank-financed consumer credit, and may be more serious in the long run. The repayment period may be longer. "Mortgage loans by banks are a departure from traditional short-term bank financing. Long-term investment, this time in a home, is financed without a corresponding act of saving. But with return to normal home owning during a period of relatively slack trade, the NHA programme had many virtues. But with return to normal conditions, and later with a reappearance of inflationary pressure, continued mortgage lending by banks, together with the other inflationary forces, undoubtedly made a contribution to instability in the economy."

Mr. Muir noted that the three varieties of credit over-expansion might become less serious due to natural causes and to the effect of policies now in force. Home building and construction in general would be effected by seasonal factors; term loans by banks and the purchase of corporate securities were no longer practicable under present monetary policy; and "control of consumer credit does not lie primarily in the field of saving. The war and post-war experience have shown that this can be most effectively handled by regulation at the retail level, with good will and co-operation between those who extend the credit and the control authorities. There should be nothing, therefore, in these three varieties of credit over-extension that a little common-

THOMAS G. MILLER — The Cunard Steam-Ship Company Limited has announced the appointment of Thomas G. Miller as General Passenger Manager in Canada effective Jan. 1. Mr. Miller, who was Passenger Traffic Manager in Canada since September, 1953, succeeded Arthur Randless, C.B.E., M.S.M. who retired Dec. 31.

Annual Meeting of Shareholders The Royal Bank of Canada

Total deposits have now passed $3 billion mark

K. M. Sedgewick, General Manager, noted that not only had the assets of the Royal Bank reached the imposing total of $3,254,389,865, but that deposits had passed the $3 billion mark, a new high point in Canadian banking history. "Ten years ago our deposits were $1,888,757,074, approximately 61% of today's figure, whereas then our deposits numbered 1,555,359 as compared with 2,557,909 at the present time." The bank's liquid position, he noted, continued strong, total quick assets of $1,918,749,579 representing 61.24% of the bank's liabilities to the public. "Our Real Account has been increased to $105,000,000 which with paid-up Capital of $42,000,000 and the undivided profits balance of $21,000,000 means that the bank now has as its Capital funds of close to $151,000,000. This is a very strong position indeed."

Mr. Sedgewick noted that NHA Mortgage Loans, made by the Royal Bank, now total $100,865,965 as compared with $22,672,389 the year before. "Other current loans also have shown expansion in line with the higher general business activity and the total at $118,559,855 shows an increase of more than $137,000,000 in the twelve-month period under review. We are now in common with the other banks, co-operating with the Government and the Bank of Canada in carrying out a policy of credit restriction designed to prevent inflationary pressures. It is important that the timing of any variation in such a policy should coincide accurately with changing conditions within the economy."

Mr. Sedgewick also discussed the bank's extensive building and renovation programme. In addition to alterations and improvements to existing premises, 39 new branches were opened in Canada in 1955 and 23 new buildings, for opening this year or later, are under construction. Branches now total 851, of which 74 are abroad.

ROYAL BANK ABROAD

The bank will also occupy new and more commodious premises in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, as a result of a move being given to further expansion in the Caribbean area. Since the bank began operations abroad nearly 50 years ago, said Mr. Sedgewick, the local staff had been encouraged to aspire to senior positions and this, he felt, had been a major factor in the success of the bank's foreign operations. There was, he said, a need for Canadians in the bank's foreign service and as a consequence splendid opportunities existed in the Royal Bank's foreign branches for any Canadian young man interested in a satisfying and successful career in international banking. Mr. Sedgewick paid a high tribute to the bank's staff, which now numbers well over 14,500. "We are very pleased indeed to see a growing number of young men join our staff and feel that they have attractive opportunities ahead," said Mr. Sedgewick.

sense, restraint, and co-operation cannot quickly cure."

CANADIAN UNITY

While sound economic policy was a factor in achieving national unity and well being, said Mr. Muir, the development of a broad national outlook, the acceptance of regional and cultural parochialism were also of paramount importance. "The very diversity of regional, cultural and occupational interests in Canada that creates and aggravates our problem makes unity an even richer prize than would otherwise be the case," he concluded. "Ours will be a unity in diversity, with the attendant opportunity for the fullest advantage of the division of labour, itself a product of diversity in culture, in individual talent and skill, in group interest and activity. I believe that this difficult task can be accomplished."
